

Privacy Policy for Recorder for Wireless Mics

Effective date: 2026-07-20

1. Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains how Jiri Otoupal processes personal information in connection with Recorder for Wireless Mics. It takes effect on 2026-07-20. It is based on the service practices described by its operator and should be read together with notices shown when information is collected.

2. Who operates this service

Jiri Otoupal is the individual responsible for this policy and is based in Czechia.

3. Scope

This policy applies to the application offered under the Recorder for Wireless Mics name. It does not govern independent third-party services that publish their own privacy terms.

4. Information we collect

Based on the operator's stated practices, Jiri Otoupal does not intentionally collect personal information through Recorder for Wireless Mics. Limited technical data may still be handled transiently where necessary to deliver a network request, protect the service, or comply with law.

5. Payments

Payments are processed using Apple App Store for recurring. The operator does not directly store full payment-card information; the payment provider handles card details under its own privacy terms. The operator retains amount for accounting, support, fraud prevention, and legal obligations.

6. Children's privacy

The service is intended for a general audience. If the operator learns that information was collected from a child contrary to the stated audience or applicable law, it will take reasonable steps to delete it and may ask for age or authority verification.

7. Changes to this policy

This policy may be updated to reflect service, legal, or operational changes. The current version will be posted through the service or another location communicated to users with a revised effective date. Additional notice or consent will be provided only when required by applicable law.

8. Contact us

Privacy questions and requests may be sent to Jiri Otoupal at 9hly2ztp1@mozmail.com.
